Monday, May 18, 2020

Thank you God for the provision of our common home. Guide us to care for it, and therefore care for one another. Inspire me to persevere through change to clean our environment.

God of creation, provide us strength of will to change long-held habits of consumption which pollute our common home. Inspire us to innovate to an eco-friendly economy that is prosperous for all and benefits our descendants.

Wednesday, May 20, 2020

Today I ask for strength to be an instrument of peace; guide us so that we see each other as brothers and sisters who share one common home and yearn for a common goal – unity and reconciliation.

God of love, I pray for the healing of divided communities in our nation. Inspire us to reach out to our neighbors, find opportunities to dialogue and share the gifts of welcome and acceptance.

Friday, May 22, 2020

Today I pray for the Indigenous peoples around the world whose lives are threatened by corporate decision makers seeking their own gains. Protect these people who depend on their land, clean water and air to survive.

Saturday, May 23, 2020

Everlasting God, I pray for resilience, restoration and happiness for all of your servants who daily help others before thinking of themselves. May their service inspire others to bring about similar action with love.

Sunday, May 24, 2020

Today I pray for long-term solutions that reverse the man-made influence on extreme weather. Help those who suffer from droughts, floods and other catastrophes. Show me how to decrease my environmental footprint.
